Larsen Implements Now the Authorized Ford Dealers

To show that the enterprising firm of Larsen implements has faith in the future of this district, they have launched out into the automobile and truck business. They have secured the Ford agency and already have on display a new V8 De Luxe Tudor, upholstered in mohair and finished in grained walnut has safety glass throughout, is equipped with cowl lights, arm rests, assist cords, ash receptacles, agate trim hardware, adjustable driver's seat, door pockets and carpets and is the last word in automobiles. For the past few days they have been busy re-arranging and providing space for a complete line of repairs and parts for Ford cars, the first shipment of which has already arrived and is now being unpacked and placed in their proper bins.

The Resource predicts that if this hustling firm gives the same quality of service in the automotive line as they have in implement and oil lines, all users and supporters of this popular line of cars and trucks will be pleased that this firm has seen fit to enter this new field.

OBITUARY

A solemn sorrow again shrouded the Arrowwood district when the death of Herbert W. Whitehead occurred Sunday, October 3rd. The late Mr. Whitehead was born on May 19th, 1878, at Verdun, Illinois; his ancestors originally came from Holland with the "Pilgrim Fathers" on the "Mayflower." Shortly after arrival in America the "Whitehead Church and School," Church of the Brethren, was built at Gosheen, Indiana. He came to Canada in 1913 and farmed with the Harris family at Makopies. In 1927 Mr. Whitehead was united in marriage with Miss Maude Seabrook. The following year they moved to the Arrowwood district where Mr. Whitehead has been engaged in farming for the past years. He leaves to mourn his death, a sorrowing wife, a daughter Helen, at home and a son, Theodore, in U.S. There are also three brothers and three sisters living in the U.S.

Funeral services will be held at the Church of the Brethren Thursday afternoon (today) at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. J. E. Culp will conduct the service. Interment will take place in the Arrowwood Cemetery.

Winners of Scholarships to be Announced Shortly

Most of the special prizes won by school children at the recent fair have been awarded. Cash prizes are determined by the amount of money available for the same. The point system is used to determine the winners of the scholarships. Mrs. F. Hall very kindly consented to take this work over and will no doubt be able to announce the winners shortly. This work entails a good deal of correspondence and figuring and we are indeed grateful to Mrs. Hall for this and other services that she has rendered on behalf of our school fair.

U. F. W. A. Meets at Mrs. Shouldice's Home

The U. F. W. A. met at the home of Mrs. D. R. M. Shouldice assisted by Mrs. R. E. Hill. There were thirteen members and five visitors present.

Roll call was answered by current events, which was followed by a health bulletin by Mrs. R. Shouldice. A letter was received from Mrs. C. Desjarret by one of the members including a paper on how to raise ponies which was read by Mrs. Lewendon. Mrs. Better while living in Arrowwood was very successful in raising ponies and gave some very helpful advice which was of much benefit to members of less experience.

The meeting then adjourned and a dainty lunch was served by the hostesses.

A Way to Happiness

If we noticed little pleasures
As we noticed little pains,
If we quite forgot our losses
And remembered all our gains,
If we looked for people's virtues
And their faults refused to see
What a comfortable, happy Cheerful place this world would be.

Crop Notes

North America shipped nearly eight million bushels of wheat last week, most of this volume coming from Canada. Australia shipped 21 million bushels, largely to non-European countries and Argentina shipped 11 million bushels.

Russian wheat exports from August 1 up to last week totalled 4,884,000 bushels as against 38,264,000 bushels for the same period a year ago.

Rust has caused havoc among the crops of eastern Europe but western Europe has a big crop, harvested under favorable conditions.

By the end of October the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool will have shipped four million bus of grain for export via Churchill, Canada's baby port.

There is a total of 5,872 grain elevators with a capacity of 202,951,100 bushels. Manitoba has 739 elevators with a capacity of 24,751,500 bushels, Saskatchewan has 3,237 elevators with a capacity of 103,855,400 bushels. Alberta has 1,748 elevators with a capacity of 75,344,200 bushels.

Growers desiring to place their wheat in the 1932-33 pool must declare their intention at the time the grain is delivered.

Mr. J. J. Bickert, B.R. 1, Enderby, B.C., writes: "Last Summer all my children were troubled with diarrhoea, and were so bad I did not know what to do. A friend told me to give them Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, so I got a bottle, and after a couple of doses you soon saw the change. The children were well again, and I am very thankful to you for the medicine, as I find it the only one that relieves so easily and quickly."

The Sun Is Shining.

As the writer sits down before his typewriter to type out this article, bright sunshine, typical of these beautiful Indian summer days on the prairies, is streaming through the window, while there is that invigorating tang in the air which leads one to throw back his head and draw in a lungful. The sun is shining, and in these days when we are all too prone to dwell on the dark side of things, it is well to remember that the sun is still there, shining away as strong as ever, the only difficulty being the clouds that intervene to obscure our vision.

The sun still shines, not only in the actual meaning of the words in the physical world, but in the sense that there is much of brightness and warmth in life itself. Admittedly there are still difficulties ahead for many people, there are very acute problems for individuals, but all countries, devoting their time, their intellects, their energies, to searching out and testing the efficiency of the remedies to be applied. The world knows there is something out of joint somewhere and there is surely comfort and satisfaction in the knowledge that people are just letting things drift in the hope that something will turn up to bring about a betterment, but, on the contrary, are tackling the problem from all angles with a view to effecting that betterment and to preventing a recurrence of present conditions.

Some people, who talk as if they believed the sun had been finally and forever blottered out, keep on circulating pessimistic views to the effect that the moral character of people is breaking down, that they are losing their initiative, that, instead of retaining confidence in themselves and a pride in their own achievements, they are willing to become the mere hewlings of the state. In the prevailing atmosphere of gloom in which such people surround themselves, they see growing up a generation of loafers and criminals. Is this a true picture? If the spirit of brightness which rose to great heights during the tragic years of the war still lives in the hearts and minds of our people, it was displayed last year when people in the older sections of Canada aided trainloads of supplies to assist and comfort their fellow-Canadians in the drought-stricken areas of Saskatchewan. It is being displayed this year within the confines of that Province by a great rallying together of people who "have" in order that they may give to those who, again this year unfortunately, "have not." The war days saw the rise of the Red Cross branches, Patriotic Fund committees, and other organizations with like objects were organized and active in even the smallest hamlet and rural district, to now read of the organization of voluntary rural relief committees in areas where there are crops—almost no more probable—to assist the people in the smaller areas, again this year, there have been no crops.

The sun is shining in the hearts of those who are building up and supporting these voluntary relief committees, and the sun will be shining in the homes to which such aid is extended.

And the clouds are growing thinner and lifting. Every now and then a ray of sun flickers through because it has never ceased shining. The clouds will finally break and disappear, and the sun burst forth in all its splendour and life-giving warmth. Despite all our discouragements, let us keep our courage, just as we are, as a people, clinging steadfastly to our old-time concepts of honesty, morality, industry and respect for the laws and institutions of our country.

A Remarkable French Taking To Tea

Trees Four Feet In Diameter Are Only Four Feet High

What is believed to be the most remarkable forest in the world has been found on the west coast of Africa. As though the trunk of the tree are as much as four feet in diameter, they attain the height of only four feet. No tree bears more than two leaves, which attain a length of six feet and breadth of two feet. The forest covers a tableland six miles in width.

Speedboat Record

American Pilot Averaged over 124 Miles An Hour

Gar Wood regained the world's speedboat record by sending his "Miss America X" catapulting twice over a measured mile on the St. Clair River at Algonac, Mich., at an average speed of 124.81 statute miles an hour. The former record, 118.73 miles an hour, was made on Loch Lomond, Scotland, July 18 last, by Kaye Don, British speedboat pilot, who tried unsuccessfully to wrest the Harmsworth trophy from Wood.

Wood, after the record-breaking run, said "Miss America's" four 12-cylinder engines had not been well open in the effort and he thought the big, mahogany-hulled thunderbolt could go faster. "How much faster, I can't say," he said. "The motors were making 2,500 revolutions per minute. Their limit, with safety, is 2,700 revolutions per minute."

Found Their Own Market

Erico Offered Did Not Sell Onion Growers of Brittany

When growers of onions in the vicinity of Roscoff, Brittany, could not get the price desired for the yield of their small farms last season, they formed a syndicate, chartered a small sailing vessel, loaded on it 60 tons of onions and sailed for England, where long strings of the onions on their backs they went from door to door in Glasgow and other cities peddling their wares. When the cargo had been sold the powers figured up and found that the net profit was much larger than they had expected, and they decided and they sold the vegetables at home.

This lady says her curtains look like new

A letter from a lady in Quebec tells about the wonderful success she has had in restoring and recoloring her old living room curtains. "They were so grey and dull looking they made me feel like a shabby body," she writes. "I was perfectly good and I couldn't get a new one. A neighbor told me about a new kind of tints called Diamond Tints. I know the splendid quality of Diamond Tints. I used them often for my dyed garments. When the friend explained that Diamond Tints are lighter shades and they need no boiling, I got a package of Diamond Tints and my curtains a good rinse in the extraordinary water. When my daughter came home she asked where I got my new curtains! They surely do look as crisp and fresh as when brand new and they cheer up the whole room!"

Amazing Story About British Officer

As an officer in the British army during the war, he was stripped of his rank, degraded before he had been commanded and sentenced by court-martial to be shot for cowardice.

As a private in the French army, going through the worst fighting around Verdun, he was promoted on the field for courage and decorated afterwards by Marshal Poincaré, who described him as "the bravest man I have ever known."

That is the amazing story of a dual personality which was revealed for the first time by French government department.

This coward-here, an Englishman, claiming to be an Alsatian. He gave his name as "Henry Mayer." Because he spoke perfect French he was able to get away with it.

"Mayer" won the rank of captain, was wounded seven times, and has been mentioned numerous times for conspicuous bravery.

Recently his real identity was discovered by the French police, but it is hoped that he will be shown mercy by his own government in view of the extraordinary circumstances.

Dickens' Books Popular

Demand For Works Exceeds Supply Says London Librarian

The man who made Christmas—Charles Dickens—is as popular as ever among book-lovers. "A London Librarian, discussing what the public reads, has revealed that Dickens' works are demanded more frequently than any other," he said. "The books, however, seem to be out of favor. Dickens also figures in a list of the thirteen books most widely read by girls over twelve in another public library. It includes 'David Copperfield' and 'The Old Curiosity Shop.' Boys also stick to the old favorites, but they actually prefer books in which the flavor of adventure is stronger, 'Robinson Crusoe,' 'King Solomon's Mines,' 'The Swiss Family Robinson,' and 'Treasure Island' are well up on the list. But, of course, certain of the classics are prescribed by teachers for home reading, and that may boost up the demand for them."

RUSSIAN, CANNOT SEND FOOD THROUGH MAIL

Attempts To Relieve Famine Discovered by Soviets

Henceforth bread, flour, cereals, seeds and other foodstuffs are to be barred from the mails, the post office announced.

It is hoped in this way to stop the voluntary and individual attempts to relieve famine in the post office.

In the past half-year and more the shortage of food has become a serious throughout large areas of the Soviet Union that desperate methods of obtaining bread have been resorted to. The peasants swarm with peasants, each staggering under a heavy sack full of bread, bound back to the provinces and the farms.

Much food has also found its way through the mails. Friends and relatives in the capital have endeavored to relieve the suffering of their dear ones by occasional shipments of food. Food has not been plentiful in Moscow, but again dodging about and dodging speculating has made many to accumulate a few leaves extra or a few pounds of meat of some sort.

Now this chaper has been plugged. Postmen will henceforth either have to attempt to get aboard already hopelessly overcrowded trains for a periodical visit to Moscow—or starve.

Slaves in the Sahara

Men Working in Salt Pits Live Like Animals

"Their black bodies were covered with a white layer of raw salt. And their wrinkled arms, thighs and legs had disappeared under a coat of brine, that thickens as the years pass on."

This was a description of the slaves who spend their lives in the salt pits of the Sahara as they were seen by two Frenchmen, Captain Leo Gerville-Reach and Lieut. J. Roger-Mathieu. The two men crossed the Sahara in motorcars on their way to the city of Touat and stopped to see how horrible salt is produced.

"These wild human beasts of the salt mines live in holes dug just below the ground level. The roof and walls of these caves are made of alternated layers of earth and salt. In the middle is a huge block of salt on which the men work, repair their tools, and prepare their meals. They eat and sleep on the sand."

"The salt pits are large square holes about ten yards broad and deep, with slippery steps leading down to the bottom. There the slaves work in a sea of putrid mud, which one of them continuously hauls out with a shovelpole. All the workers soon become dried like parchment, with their eyes reddened and swollen by the sun and salt."

An Entertainment Hint

If you have friends dropping in frequently, it is a good plan to have a jig-saw puzzle on hand. Have it carefully spread out on a card table—when you know that guests are coming. The natural desire of everyone will be to put the pieces together.

"And you don't know anything about religion?" queried the missionary. "Well, we've got a little taste of it when the last missionary was here," replied the cannibal chieftain.

Irish Nationalists

Dislike Nelson Statue

Are Anxious To Have It Removed From Dublin

High above the heart of Dublin, commanding a view of the whole city, stands the pillared statue of Admiral Nelson, British hero of Trafalgar.

The statue has been standing there for many years—but it is not so much loved as it once was. For Nelson's memory is not so dear to Irish hearts as to those of their cousins across the channel.

Irish nationalists long have been seeking to have the Nelson column, a replica of the famous one in London's Trafalgar Square, removed from their capital.

"It is the chief landmark of Dublin. It is scarred on one side from a bomb explosion in 1916, when Irish rebels tried to blow it up."

Now that Dublin is seeking a suitable memorial to commemorate the recent Zhabarist Congress, the proposal to scrap the statue of Nelson is receiving new consideration. It is urged that the statue column be left, with the statue replaced by another honoring St. Patrick or some other Irish immortal.

A New Vegetable

A vegetarian was interviewing an applicant as a "cook lady." Her references were good, and the wages she demanded not exorbitant. "I'd like to have you," said the lady, "but perhaps you won't want to live with us. We are vegetarians and never have any meat in the house. Would you be satisfied with a vegetable diet?" The applicant scratched her head. "Well," said the lady, "isn't a vegetable?"

A Scotman, in planning his new home, left the roof of one room. A friend asked the reason for this. "Oh, that's the shower," replied the Scot.

Expulsion From Russia

Faces Correspondent

Soviet Objects To Articles Written By Canadian Girl

Rhea Clyman, a Toronto, Ont., girl, corresponded at Moscow for the London Daily Express and the Toronto Evening Telegram, was ordered expelled from Soviet Russia on a charge of writing false news about the country.

"The order followed recent publication by The Daily Express of a series of articles she wrote after a trip to the timber regions in northern Russia, purporting to reveal methods employed by the secret police at a prison camp near Ken."

The newspaper Izvestia attacked her in a half-page editorial as a "provocateur from the bourgeois camp."

Miss Clyman, who is 28, has been in Russia for years, contributing to numerous newspapers and magazines in Canada and England.

Miss Clyman invoked the aid of the British embassy seeking permission to return before leaving the country but that question has not been decided by the police.

This is the first expulsion of a foreign correspondent in 10 years, although a representative of the Canadian Press and a representative of the Reuters Telegraph have been refused permission to enter the country in recent years.

Platinum Found in Alaska

Geologist Believes Vein Is Located In Red Mountain

A dispatch from Seward, Alaska, says Red Mountain, the strange, of Good News Bay, which lies just east of the mouth of the Kuskokwim River, has long intrigued the interest of prospectors.

Two years ago a party of adventurers made their way down the Kuskokwim, pitched camp on the eastern side of Red Mountain and began prospecting a number of small creeks flowing into Salmon River. Since that time they have been extracting platinum from the placer.

Now comes word that cumulative geological evidence points to a platinum lode or vein in the mountain itself.

An examination by a young geologist, who devoted some weeks to study of the formation, disclosed that there is a possibility that the first platinum lode of vein to be discovered on the North American continent, may be imbedded in Red Mountain.

Garage Doors Opened

With Radio Device

Mechanism Of Invention Operated From Inside Of Car

The latest invention of Ernest Patrick, Columbus, Indiana, is one which automatically lights his garage, opens the doors and closes them after he drives his automobile from the garage.

Patrick also is the inventor of a tube radio. The mechanism which opens the garage doors is operated by a device from the inside of Patrick's car. The new device was largely of old parts of a cream separator. Shortwave impulses are sent from the radio in Patrick's machine to a tube receiver inside the garage.

Patrick has applied for patents on such parts of the device as he has already been patented.

When the garage doors suddenly flew open without any signal from Patrick, he explained that it was caused by some short-wave operator sending on the same wave-length to which the garage was attuned. He said that difficulty would be overcome.

Arrested Thought

A Scot applied for a raise, stating that he was thinking of getting married. At the end of the week he found a fairly substantial raise in pay envelope. Some time later he met the manager on the stairs.

"I suppose you've settled down to married life now?" asked the manager.

"I'm not married," replied the Scot.

"Not married?" asked the manager. "But didn't you say you were thinking of getting married?"

"Oh, yes," came the reply, "but I stopped thinking."

THE LONELIEST HEART

Which is the loneliest heart that beats tonight
If we could truly read
Each hidden struggle and each secret plight,
Each brother's stress and need?

Ah, does it throb on some forgotten isle,
Unmarked on any chart,
Or in some crowded city where no smile
Bids weariness depart?

The loneliest heart, wherever it may dwell,
Is one that thrust aside
Another heart which loved it all too well,
And, loving, starved and died.

The loneliest heart is that which now must know
Only in dreams the touch
Of clinging hands of one who long
Put faith in it too much.

Sing and Grow Thin

Is Advice Given By World Famous Choir Master

Sing and grow thin.
So saith Sir Henry Coward, of Sheffield, England, world-famous choir-master, speaking of singing of jazz.

"Singing makes people grow tall, slender and healthy," Sir Henry declared. "The more breathing exercise in singing are sufficient to make you slim. Sing for symmetry!"

"Sir Henry also advises parents to spend five or ten minutes every morning singing with their children."

"It will make them sit and keep their feet from adorning and treading trouble," he says.

"For those who have neither voice nor ear for music, Sir Henry offers encouragement."

"Even though your voice would disgrace an automatic camera, even though you can't differentiate between a lecture and jazz, sing and be healthy. Let others worry about your voice!"

ACHES
and Pains easily relieved

Aspirin will relieve your suffering harmlessly and in a hurry. Swallow a tablet in a little water. The pain is gone!

It's as easy as that to be rid of the pain from an aching tooth; of headache from any cause. Muscular aches due to rheumatism, lumbago, to colds or strains, are easily overcome. These unpleasant pains of women are soothed away in an instant.

The modern way to relieve pain is with Aspirin. That is the way that modern medicine and science agree. They know Aspirin is safe—can do no harm. It does not depress the heart.

It will always find Aspirin in any drugstore, and if you send the proven directions and follow them, you always get relief. You will avoid lots of suffering you just remember about Aspirin tablets. Be sure you get Aspirin and not a substitute. "Aspirin" is a trade-mark registered in Canada.

Rights of Her Majesty

Quint Privileges Of Queen Date Back To Sixteen Days

The Queen of England has some special privileges and rights which are very little known. From a constitutional point of view, she is practically regarded as a single woman—all Queens have been since early Saxon days.

Their existence and their affairs are considered as quite separate from their husbands. That is so that the "hus" may not be troubled and distracted on account of his wife's domestic affairs, but may give his whole attention to the Government and guidance of his realm.

In olden days, the King was "fined" part of any gold voted to him. The "fine" became the possession of his Queen. Charles I. bought this right from his Queen to save further confusion in his already confused account, and "Queen's Gold" has never been restored to the King's command.

Still, the Queen today is entitled to the full of every white captured off her armor, she has the right to ride in a car not bearing an official registration number. Although she is a subject of the King, none of the rights of Justice may fine the Queen or make her liable for any damage.

Little Help For This Week

As thy day, so shall thy strength be.—Deuteronomy 31: 20.

Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.—Matthew 6: 34.

He that has so many causes of joy, and so great a victory over his life with sorrow and peevishness, who loses all these pleasures, and chooses to sit down on his little handful of sorrow. Enjoy the blessings of this day if God sends them; and the evils of it bear patiently and sweetly. This day is only ours, we are dead to yesterday and not yet born to tomorrow.—Jeremy Taylor.

Oh, ask not, How shall I bear the burden of tomorrow?

The burden for today, I care, I'll and its sorrow, and I'll depart by the day. Strength sufficient for the day.—J. E. Saxby.

Outrigger Canoes To Cross Pacific

Voyage From Honolulu To California Coast Is Planned

To prove to a doubting world that ancient Hawaiians could—and probably did—make long sea voyages in outrigger canoes, Jack A. Royal is considering sailing two of the craft from Honolulu to the California Coast.

He and Charles Amalu, who would command the second canoe, were convinced the trip is possible.

The outfit would carry four men each. Royal planned. They would be propelled by sail, and have outboard motors for auxiliary power.

The canoe "Ahi", belonging to Amalu, and one formerly owned by the Princess Kalaaniala, would be used. They are carved from single logs.

Workmen Find Fortune

After 78 years a fortune of $50,000, hid in his farm wall near Le Spezia, Italy, by Mario Giammaria, has come to light. Workmen razing the wall for building purposes found a shower of gold coins falling on their heads. The money had been put in a jar and built into the wall.

Lucky Strike

No, it isn't a brand of cigarettes nor is it oil well. It is just a happy move on the part of the Federal Government which has met a hearty response in the hearts of the Canadian people. The Veterans are to be commemorated for their request that Armistice Day be a day commemorating one idea only. To call it Thanksgiving was to confuse ideas for on this continent Thanksgiving Day has been too long connected with products of the soil to admit of any other idea creeping in even though it be as worthy or more so.

Now while we concede that crops cannot be grown over a shell strewn, trench marked area so that peace is essential to agricultural prosperity, yet the days around November 11th are too filled with vivid memories to really be a Peace Day.
It will be a long time before the colors of those pictures will have faded so that it will stand out as peace in general. There is some peace for which that date stands and whether we saw active service or not we cannot forget the issue.

Then early frosts in both east and west make an earlier date much better for a display of field and garden produce. Even in the late fall, early October is much more appropriate for such ceremonies. The turkeys are fat, the garden truck in and the grain threshed so here's to a good old Thanksgiving Dinner.

Happenings In and Around Arrowwood

Mr. S. Weigh, of the Vulcan

J. Lindland and sister Alice, of yesterday.

Mrs. R. H. Burr and son Kenneth left for their home at visiting for a month with Mr.

A "Well Baby's Clinic"—the object of which is to keep well babies well—will be held in the Church of the Brethren on Friday afternoon, Oct. 14th.

Mr. H. McCallough was a Calgary visitor last Saturday, and while there, took advantage of the opportunity to witness the baseball game between Monterey Royals and Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League.

Men can never escape being governed. Either they must govern themselves or they must submit to being governed by others. If from lawlessness or fickleness, from folly or self-indulgence, they refuse to govern themselves, then most assuredly in the end they will have to be governed from the outside. They can prevent the need of government from without only by showing that they possess the power of government from within. A sovereign cannot make excuses for his failures; a sovereign must accept the responsibility for the exercise of the power that is inherent in him; and where, as is true in our Republic, the people are sovereign, then the people must show a sober understand-purpose if they are to preserve that orderly liberty upon which as a foundation every republic

What Are Your Plans?

In another two weeks the Arrowwood district will have about completed its harvesting of one of the bumper crops for which this district is famous. The big rush will then be over. Why not let us have a get-together meeting and make this a bigger and better Arrowwood.

With the harvest and threshing rush nearing its finish, don't forget that we are ready to wait on you for your winter requirements of farm machinery.
There is a grain chopper that you will probably need or a small engine to pump the water.

How about a cream separator to skim all the profits from the cows, or a washing machine for the housewife. We have them in a wide range of prices.

Remember us when you want to get your coal bin filled—we are on the job
when it comes to coal hauling.

More miles per gallon,
more power for the bill—
use British American New Green Super Power Gasoline.

The sweet young thing
had broken her glasses.
She took the remains back to the optometrist.
"Well, I have to be examined all over again!"
she asked.

"No" replied the optometrist. "Just your eyes."

Use Autoline motor oils for your engines. They are life savers for your engines.

If its hauling you want,
we know our long wheel base "Six-Wheeler" will satisfy you.
